

FAASTeam presents:

NOTE- Restriction to BASE R-2508 Airspace and Mid-Air
Collision Review PLUS Edwards AFB Mission

This seminar location is located on Edwards AFB. Due to security restrictions at Edwards AFB, this event is ONLY open to those who possess a current/valid Department of Defense Military/Government Civilian Employee/Contractor/Dependent or Retiree ID, or those who are independently sponsored onto the base. The presenter "will not" be able to provide access for those without the Above IDs.

The hallowed skies over Edwards AFB have seen monumental strides in aviation history. Capt Eric Penney, from the base Flight Safety Office, will review the current missions at Edwards AFB and reveal proper methods to navigate the vast MOAs and Restricted areas plus Military Training Routes (MTRs) with an emphasis on midair collision avoidance with fast movers. There will be vital safety information, as well as some fun information and videos about current Edwards flight test programs. Don't miss this dynamic presentation!

Capt Eric Penney currently serves as the Edwards AFB Flight Safety Officer and is a Research Pilot conducting developmental test and evaluation on tanker platforms and aerial refueling certifications for DoD aircraft. Eric has recently been selected to be part of the initial instructional cadre for the KC-46. He has over 2800 hours in the KC-135 and T-1A aircraft including over 700 combat and 1800 instructional hours. Eric is also a General Aviation pilot and CFII/MEI.

If you are a student at a local flight school or a pilot flying in the area, you will benefit from a refresher on the Edwards airspace, and how to navigate around and in the airspace. Particularly important are the MOAs and MTRs which we share with military aircraft - make sure you understand the rules and YOUR responsibilities for avoiding mid-air!

This event is set for the San Carlos Flight Center Tour and the group has graciously opened this portion up for anyone with base access.

Members of the San Carlos Flight Center do not need to sign up online for this event and your seats have been reserved.

Directions: This seminar location is located on Edwards AFB. Due to security restrictions at Edwards AFB, this event is ONLY open to those who possess a current/valid Department of Defense Military/Government Civilian Employee/Contractor/Dependent or Retiree ID, or those who are independently sponsored onto the base. The presenter "will not" be able to provide access for those without the Above IDs.

Access to Edwards AFB is restricted to those individuals with official business on base. This means that the museum is accessible only to base personnel and individuals who have appropriate credentials to enter the installation.

From Hwy 14/Rosamond, CA, take Rosamond Blvd east, through the security gate and the museum is on the left prior to the first stoplight.
